Describe two things you learned about investing that you didn't know before participating in The Stock Market Game. Explain how this can help your future and help others. If you were investing $100,000 to perform well over the next 30 years, what stocks, bonds, and mutual funds would you choose and why?

Let's break the question down into 3-parts.

1) Describe two things you learned about investing that you didn't know before participating in The Stock Market Game.

Remember you have learned about: different types of stocks; small cap, mid cap, large cap, dividend, diversification. You have learned about mutual funds and the importance of long-term investing for your future.

2) Explain how this can help your future and help others.

The easy answer is to write about long-term investing for your future. If you want to go deeper think about how investing for our retirement can also teach us the self-discipline we need to be better savers and spend our money wisely, not wasting it on things we don't need. But how does this help us help others?? Think about it this way, if you are more disciplined with your money, you will be in a better position to help others who are in need. How would or how could you help someone in need? What organization would you help? Or would you begin your own organization to help others? Be realistic don't exaggerate here!

3) If you were investing $100,000 to perform well over the next 30 years, what stocks, bonds, and mutual funds would you choose and why?

This is where you might want to go to my website and you will find headlines about ESG stocks that you could invest in.
